

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR
COMMANDERY HERE

Instituted By State Officers Friday Evening at Masonic Hall.—Officers Installed.

PROMINENT MEN IN CHARGE

Of the Ceremonies.—Banquet Followed the Work.—Speeches By Visitors.

Seymour Commandery No. 56, Knights Templar was instituted and officers installed Friday evening at the Masonic hall.

A dispensation for a commandery here was issued about a year ago by the Grand Commandery and since that time the work has been done under that dispensation. At the last meeting of the Grand Commandery a charter was granted and on Friday evening a number of the distinguished officers of the Grand Commandery came to Seymour to conduct the work of regularly instituting the commandery. The visiting officers were Grand Eminent Commander, John L.
Rupe of Richmond, Past Grand Eminent Commander Charles Day of New Albany, Past Grand Eminent Commander L. P. Newby of Knights-town, Grand Treasurer E. C. L. Hutchison of Indianapolis and Grand Warder, E. Henri T. Conde of the same city.

The officers of the local commandery who were installed were:

Eminent Commander—George G.
Graessle.

Generalissimo—Frank Gardiner.
Captain General—Roll J. Conly.
Senior Warden—Sim Watkins.
Junior Warden—Joel Matlock.
Treasurer—J. B. Shepard.
Recorder—S. L. Cherry.
Prelate—William Meseke.
Warder—J. M. Hamer.
Sword Bearer—George Meyer.
Standard Bearer—C. C. McMillan.
Sentinel—J. L. Williams.
Guards—O. D. Seelinger, J. Ezra
Thomas and Ed Boyles.

After the beautiful ceremonies attending the installation of the officers the visitors and Sir Knights enjoyed a four course banquet which was served by Mrs. T. S. Galbraith. The decorations were all in yellow, tapers and flowers being tastefully arranged.
Short speeches were made by the visiting officers.

The local commandery now has about thirty-five members and a number of applications for membership are on file.

A number of Masons here in the past belonged to the Columbus Commandery but they have long desired a local organization and their efforts to secure one were at last rewarded.
The Commandery is made up of men of high standing and all are deeply interested in the organization.

DIED.

SHIEL.—Michael Edmond Shiel died Saturday Morning at his home in Indianapolis after a short illness of heart trouble. He was born in Madison, Nov. 3, 1850. Later the family moved to this county. He was educated in the common schools, at Notre Dame and Lake Forest.

He learned the trade of a tanner and currier and was associated with his father and brother in business at Ewing, in Arkansas and Texas, and later in Seymour.

In 1877 he was elected financial secretary of the Seymour Reform Club and in September of that year founded the Monitor Journal which was made the state official temperance organ. In 1881 he moved his plant to Indianapolis and took an active part in the amendment campaign of 1882. Later his paper and two others were consolidated and the Phalanx established. He was prominent in temperance movements and at different times served as secretary of the state Prohibition committees in Indiana and Kentucky.

He was married twice. His first wife was Miss Etta Cobbler of Lafayette who died in 1909. Last October he married Mrs. Mary E. Watts, who survives. Two children are living and one brother, J. F. Shiel, and a sister, Mrs. Jason Brown, of this city.

He was a member of eight fraternal orders and a grand officer of the Golden Cross at the time of his death.

ABEL.—John Abel, after an illness of two months, died at 12:15 this morning at the home of Charles Spaulding, near Cortland. He was 74 years and 11 months of age and well known in the county. He spent his entire life in this community, living on farms near Jonesville, and Seymour. He leaves a wife and eight children, Charles, Will, Virgil, John, Nora, Josephine, Anna and Mrs.
Clara Mains.

The funeral services will be held at the Spaulding home at 2 p. m. Monday. Burial at Jonesville.

STEADMAN.—Mrs. Mary Steadman, sister of Miss Hannah Wainscott and Mrs. James McWhorter of this city, died Wednesday at her home in Rockville after a lingering illness of stomach trouble. The funeral services and burial were held Friday.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of our husband and father, Lewis Bollinger. We also thank Mr. Voss, Bro. Jackson and the order of Odd Fellows and all others who expressed their sympathy in floral offerings.

Mrs. Bollinger and Children.

Body Cremated.

Frank Conner who was proprietor of the depot restaurant at North Vernon many years and was well known to many Seymour people, died last Wednesday. The body was taken to Cincinnati today for cremation.

Will Close.

The Model grocery will be closed all day Monday on account of the funeral of John Abel.

MARRIED.

SEULKE-MILHOUS.

Mr. Theodore Seulke and Miss Blanche Milhous, of Seymour, were married at Indianapolis at 8 o'clock
Thursday evening by Rev. Frank F.
Lewis, pastor of the Fletcher Avenue
M. E. church. The wedding occured in their newly furnished home on Ethel street. Mr. and Mrs. Milhous, of this city, and a few of the relatives of Mr. Seulke who live in Indianapolis were present and witnessed the ceremony. Mr. Seulke is a son of W. H. Seulke of this city. He graduated from the Winona Technical School in 1908 and since that time has been employed with the Hatfield Electric Co., of Indianapolis. Mrs.
Seulke is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
C. W. Milhous of this city. After closing her school work here, she spent four years at Visitation Academy at Evanston, Ill., graduating in 1909. Mr. and Mrs. Seulke are highly esteemed young people and have a large circle of friends in this city, who join in wishing them a happy and prosperous married life.

RAILING-BERNE.

Howard W. Railing and Miss Mattie Berne of this city were married at noon today in the clerk's office at Brownstown by Henry L. Mackey, a justice of the peace.

THE FOURTH

Will Be Celebrated in Old Fashioned Style at Crothersville.

Crothersville is to have a Fourth of July celebration which will be in the nature of an old fashioned picnic and accompanying amusements.

It will be held in Beineke's grove adjoining the ball park. Good music has been arranged for and the patriotism of the assembled multitude will be aroused by addresses by J. A.
Cox, Rev. J. S. Arvin, David Hogg and others. There will be games for the amusement of all and refreshment stands will be in operation.

The big event of the day will be a ball game between the Blues and the Sapinskys of New Albany. The latter team defeated Crothersville recently and the Blues are arranging to celebrate the day in good style by redeeming themselves.

To National Meeting.

Elder Harley Jackson left this morning for Buffalo, New York to attend the National Convention of the Modern Woodmen of America which will be in session all next week. He is a delegate from the fourth district.
It is expected that about 1200 delegates will attend the convention.
Grant Fitch came from Columbus and went with Elder Jackson to the convention.

PLEASURE RUN
BY AUTOMOBILES

Indianapolis Business Men Are Taking An Outing in a Run to French Lick.

ROADS FINE; WEATHER IDEAL

The Contest Not For Speed But to Approximate a Sealed Schedule for a Slow Run.

Twenty-eight automobiles were entered in the Pleasure Run which is being made today under the auspices of the Indianapolis Automobile Trade Association from Indianapolis to French Lick through Seymour. Four of the cars failed to start at the last moment and one was called away, so that there were twenty-three cars of those entered which went through Seymour.

In addition to those entered in the race the Pilot car was in charge of Harry L. Archey. It left Indianapolis at 6:45 and arrived at Seymour at 9:35. Four miles out of Indianapolis they struck a rock and punctured a tire but otherwise came all the way through without an accident.

They reported the roads good all the way through with just enough rain this morning to lay the dust.

The first car which came in of those in the race was a Hupmobile in class C, driven by F. I. Willis. It arrived here at 9:47 but did not check out until 10:50. The first car to check out was No. 34 in class B, a Moon car which arrived at 10:25 and immediately checked out. It did not leave here, however, until 10:34. In Class A the first car to check out was No. 54 a Chalmers, which checked out at 11:12.

Between 11 and 11:30 cars arrived very close together and most of them checked out at once, going directly to French Lick.

Under the rules of the Pleasure Run the cars were divided into three classes. Class A represented cars costing $2,000 and over; Class B representing cars costing from $1,000 up to $1,999; Class C those cars under $1,000.

The first cars to leave Indianapolis were those in Class C. They were to start at 7 o'clock from Indianapolis and leave at intervals of one minute; at 7:30 the cars in Class B were to start and leave one minute apart; and at 8 the cars in Class A were to start, leaving at one minute intervals.
About 12:30 W. M. Hershel, of the Indianapolis News, came through in a Premier car which won in the Glidden Tour last year. He had three punctures between here and Indianapolis, making him considerably later than any of the Pleasure Runners. He stopped here to change tires and did not leave for French Lick until 1:20.

The cars were running on a sealed schedule, no one of the drivers knowing just what time was determined upon for the schedule. It is purely a guess on the part of the drivers as to who will check up at the different points nearest the time scheduled.
The one who checks in at each of the scheduled points most nearly the time fixed will be awarded the prize, a silver cup, donated by the Indianapolis News.

Enter a Contest.

The Methodist Sunday School at Crothersville has been divided into two sections and a thirteen weeks' contest for new members has begun.
At the conclusion of the contest the winners will be given a reception by the losers. The two divisions are known as the "Blues" and "Whites." Last Sunday the former won the first round, their attendance being 47 against 31 shown by the other side.

The division which gets the most new members and has the largest average attendance for the thirteen weeks will win the contest.

How you can profit by it. Take Foley Kidney Pills. Mrs. Nancy Keneipp, 1228 1/2 Wabash Ave., Terre Haute, Ind., writes: "I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys and bladder in the past few years. My kidney action was too frequent and pained greatly. At this time I read of Foley Kidney Pills, and started using them at once. They helped me right from the start, causing my kidneys to act normally, and there was no more burning sensation. I am now entirely over all my trouble and thank Foley Kidney Pills for my cure." A. RELICS OF THE MAINE

Fittings Recovered After Pumps Lowered Water Around Wreck.

WRECK OF THE MAINE IS A GRUESOME SIGHT

Barnacle Covered Hulk Not a Pleasing Spectacle.

Havana, June 17.—The water inside the cofferdam about the Maine has been lowered ten feet. The quarters of the officers on the after deck have been brought to view. They are strangely covered with deep mud. The after turret has been uncovered, showing the two 10-inch guns. Everything is heavily incrustated with barnacles and apparently much more corroded than had been expected. Little hope remains of floating any considerable part of the ship, which was worse shattered than had been supposed. General Bixby, with members of the board, rowed about the wreck examining carefully every part above water. A part of the bow has been revealed with shattered funnel lying upon it.

There will be no more pumping for some days. In the meantime the mud will be cleared from the wreck and the engineers will watch the behavior of the cofferdam, which so far has held perfectly. The appearance of the wreck covered with barnacles is extremely gruesome.

Sentenced After Death.

South Bend, Ind., June 17.—Judgment in accordance with the verdict of the jury will be entered in circuit court in the case of Grant Winrott, who committed suicide after having been found guilty of murdering his wife. The court record will show he was sentenced after his death.

HE SEES CHAOS AND DISORDER

When Interviewed Upon Landing at Vigo, the Former Dictator Hadn't a Single Good Word to Say For the People He Left Behind—His Continued Toothache May Have Had Something to Do With This.

Vigo, Spain, June 17.—"My future plans are not definite," said ex-President Diaz of Mexico, upon arrival here. "I shall go from Havre to some quiet little chalet in Switzerland. My day is done, my sun is set, and I am an old, old man."

"My bitterest enemies have been evolved out of my warmest friendships. I have been betrayed by those I trusted most. I have suffered but few injuries from those for whom I have done nothing; all my troubles have come from those I helped."

Colonel Diaz, son of the deposed president, was present and aided in the conversation. "My father is very deaf," he said. "You will have to shout in his ear. The shooting in the capital and the attempt on his life when we fled in the night to Vera Cruz have shocked him and increased his deafness."

"I am suffering from toothache," chimed in the dictator, more concerned for the moment with his physical pain than the fate of Mexico.

"The Mexican people love you, senior president," was said. "You will return in triumph some day."

"No, I shall never go back," he replied.

"What will be the result of the Madero regime?"

"Chaos and disorder, the disruption of government, the dissatisfaction of the people. Who is this General Madero? General, indeed," he echoed. "He is a conceited man, aflame with his own consuming ambition. The Mexicans will soon tire of him."

"The condition of Mexico today is unsettled and likely to remain so. With the entry of Madero into the capital, Mexican stocks fell many per cent. American interests are threatened on every hand; American investments are worth practically nothing. What can one expect of mob rule and mediaeval warfare conducted by incompetents?"

"Will you deliver a message to the American people?" he asked. "Say to all Americans that Mexico is always their friend. Under the new regime Mexico is likely to become an alleege republic with a selfish dictator. Crying 'Free Mexico,' the leaders of the unthinking mob are likely to wield autocratic powers."

Sonora State Officials Said to Have Looted Treasury.

Douglas, Ariz., June 17.—According to a story published in the Dispatch, an investigation now under way at Hermosillo by provisional officials shows that the state treasury is short more than $1,000,000 Mexican money. Old clerks in the department, together with its head under the Diaz regime, Victor Aguilar, are at work uncovering a mass of defalcations. Former clerks are said to be making confessions, implicating themselves and many others. Former Governor Louis E. Torres is said to have left the capital when the federalists deserted, carrying $40,000 Mexican currency from the municipal treasury. The estate of Torres, former Vice President Ramon Corral, and other former officials will be confiscated as a result. The story is based upon the statement of merchants at Agua Prieta, who have just returned from the capital.

It is added that no extradition will be attempted, as the provisional officials will be satisfied with the confiscation of property to cover all losses sustained. The Torres estate is estimated to be valued at $12,000,000 Mexican, and the Corral estate is much greater.

An Interesting Side Light.

Washington, June 17.—Henry T. Oxnard, vice president of the American Beet Sugar company, told the investigating committee of the house how John E. Parsons, as counsel for the American Sugar Refining company, had O. K'd an agreement between the sugar trust and the American Beet Sugar company, which later was abrogated by the beet sugar folks because they were advised that it might land some of them in jail for violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

Girls Unable to Give Bail.

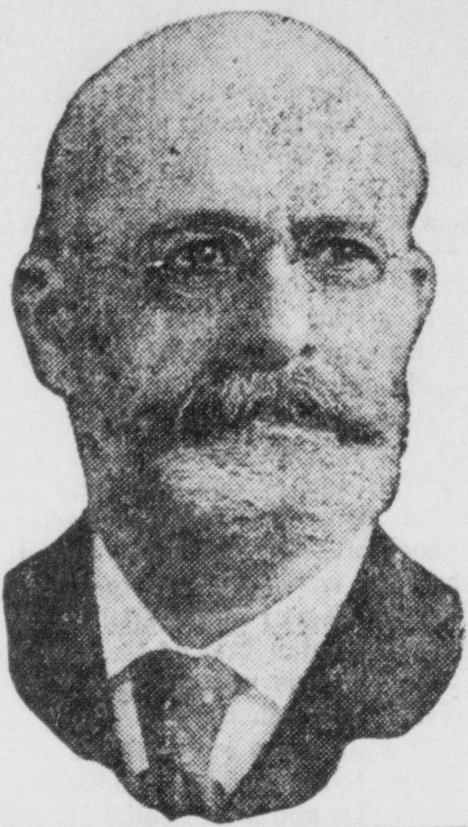

New York, June 17.—Magistrate Freschi has reduced the bail of Ethel Conrad and Lillian Graham, the girls charged with shooting W. E. D. Stokes, from $15,000 to $10,000 each. Bail has not been furnished.

Evidence of Ancient Tragedy.

Franklin, Ind., June 17.—Teamsters working in a gravel pit east of this city found a human skeleton about fifteen feet beneath the surface. A flint arrow head was between two ribs on the left side.

RECEIVER FOUND NO TRACE OF THE STOCK

What Became of This $200,000
Concern?

Terre Haute, Ind., June 17.—The arrest of Edward White, at Alton, on a warrant obtained by W. D. Cremens, who bought stock in the Kellastone company, of which White was formerly secretary, brings to light that about $200,000 of this stock has been sold and the receiver for the company can find no records of its sale nor assets amounting to more than a few hundred dollars.

Edward F. Kellie, an Englishman, several years ago organized the company to make a cement building stone, and a number of Terre Haute houses were constructed of it. The company opened offices in several cities, one in New York, of which Kellie took charge. An attorney went from Terre Haute to New York not long ago with a warrant for Kellie, but it was reported there he had probably gone to England.

TOOK THEIR TIME TO IT

Pennsylvania Bandits Chloroform and Rob Men in Labor Camp.

Erie, Pa., June 17.—Six armed bandits visited the camp of laborers employed on the Bessemer road near Erie, and after chloroforming twenty or more of the men, escaped with over $2,000. There are about fifty of the laborers living at the camp, many of them being foreigners. Many of the workmen, after receiving their pay, left camp for their homes in Erie and Pittsburg, leaving behind at the camp about twenty-four of their fellow workers. About 2 o'clock in the morning three men, their faces concealed by masks and carrying revolvers, quietly entered the camp. The first man they robbed happened to be awake. When he tried to give an alarm he was struck over the head with the butt of a pistol and rendered unconscious. The thieves went from shanty to shanty, pouring chloroform on the pillows of the men's beds. Then the bandits took their time in rifling the trunks and clothing of the men.

Cox Indictments Quashed.

Cincinnati, June 17.—All of the entries demanded and ordered in the motions to quash the two indictments charging perjury against Boss George B. Cox have been recorded in common pleas court, and it is believed that in so far as these indictments are concerned the case is ended.

Help for All

Andrew Carnegie once suggested as an epitaph for his own tombstone what he said was the secret of his success: "Here lies a man who surrounded himself with men abler than himself."

Many able people are working for you, scientists, inventors, manufacturers, all trying to make something you want. Do you use their brains and their efforts—"surround yourself with them"—or do you plod along by yourself, years behind the times?

Take your own home. Have you your share of modern improvements there—money-saving, labor-saving, health-promoting? One of the most important of these is a New Perfection Oil Cook-stove.

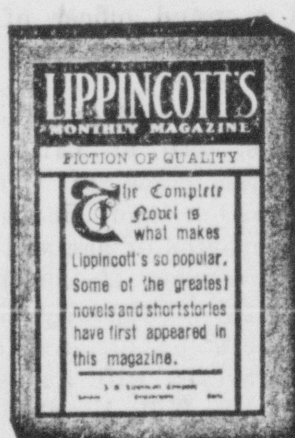

A New Perfection stove never overheats a kitchen. It saves your strength. It saves fuel and time. With the New Perfection oven with the glass doors you can go on with your ironing or any other work, and still be sure at a glance the joint is roasting properly.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Handsomely finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

THEY ALL HATE IT.

Aversion to Housework Is Fundamental With Woman.

THE MODISH GAME OF "RUM."

New Ways With Asparagus—As a Salad and Baked It's Delicious—The Quaint Eighteenth Century Poke Bonnet Is Charming.

My Dear Elsa—The masculine mind is a funny piece of mechanism—don't you think so, Elsa? Last night Dick and myself were gossiping about the new wife of a business friend of his, which lady he condemned as unfeminine because she did not take kindly to housework.

There seems to be one unshakable conviction in the masculine mind that every woman ought to love housework. As a matter of fact, we know a lot of them simply loathe it. Every woman, though, cherishes in her heart the ideal of a home of her own, but what the mere man does not know is that coupled with that ideal exists another—the ideal of a competent, reliable servant to do all the rough work at least.

Wasting her time is what the modern girl considers the domestic proposition amounts to. She may do it, and do it well, but she does it with mental reservations of sliding out of it at the first opportunity. It has been my experience of the question that in women in every social stratum, from the woman who discharges a retinue of servants so that she may move to a family hotel down to the factory girl on starvation wages who would sooner die than go out to domestic service, that dislike of housework is a fundamental trait.

Now, to my mind the crux of the situation is that what the average young man expects and needs in a wife is not a gracious lady to superintend the work of others, but one who will do it game, was started. Don't get excited over the gaiety of the name, for the play itself is temperate in every way. It consists chiefly of following suit and discarding. Any number can play it who know one suit from another. There are various rules for playing this popular game, but the chief object is to get rid of the cards in the hand as quickly as possible, as all left when the first player is out are added to his score. This description is not illuminating, I admit, but there are printed rules for playing that you can get if you are interested in the game. But do not be prejudiced with the name. Dorothy D., who is a devotee of bridge, calls "rum" "an idiot's card possibility."

Now let's talk about some new ways to cook asparagus. Baked it is as nice as it is unusual. To prepare it in this style cook the stalks tender and put layers of the vegetable in the bottom of a baking dish, cover with creamed sauce and a sprinkling of seasoned bread crumbs, then another layer of the vegetable and crumbs until the dish is filled. Dot with butter and brown in a hot oven.

Asparagus salad is also delicious. Cook the stalks early in the day and put them on the ice until very cold, and marinate a half hour before serving in a French dressing which is beaten to an emulsion. If plenty of paprika is mixed with the dressing it improves the appearance of the salad. Even when mayonnaise is used the stalks should be marinated first in French dressing. Served cold this salad appeals to one's palate when the thermometer is away up in the impossible numbers for comfort.

To skip back to fashion before closing this rambling epistle, let me advise you to get one of the new-old eighteenth century poke bonnets. They are especially designed for piquant faces such as you are fortunate enough to possess. A charming model for dressy wear is made of point d'esprit net, the tall crown wreathed between the puffings with trailing vines of green leaves and tiny rosebuds. Such a creation will be lovely to wear with your thin tub frocks. Write very soon and tell me whether you like any of my suggestions. What think you of my new automobile costume?

Always yours to command for ideas,

MABEL.

New York.

SOFA CUSHIONS.

The New Ones Are Made Without Any Decoration.

The new sofa cushion is covered with the finest of lingerie material without any decoration in the way of embroidery. The edges are flat and hemstitched and made of a double fold of the muslin or lawn, while the cushion part is arranged with a series of slits measuring about three inches long, through which soft liberty satin is drawn.

The ends of the ribbon are tied at two of the corners in huge bows. Pink in rose petal shade, sky and pale blues, light green and mauve are the colors chosen for the ribbons, and it is correct to have the cushion covered with satin in the same shade as the ribbons before the lingerie cover is slipped on.

Bedroom cushions are also made in the same way, and the ottoman, which is most useful as a receptacle for blouses, etc., as well as a resting place, is covered to match the cushion, first with delicately colored silk on satin and then with the ribbon threaded muslin.

A Cheering Gift.

As a gift for an elderly or invalid friend make a fancy bag of linen or silk and embroider on it "Take One Each Day." Then on slips of pretty colored paper write quotations from the Bible, favorite verses, gems from favorite authors, etc. Fold each quotation to look like the doctor's powders and place in the little bag, which can be finished off with pretty ribbons to hang on the invalid's chair or bed. Such a gift will give much pleasure to the recipient with its cheering message for each day as it comes.

Making Buttonholes.

When making buttonholes always run the buttonhole twist all round the hole about one-sixteenth of an inch from the edge before beginning the actual buttonholing. This prevents it from tearing, besides serving as a guide to the depth of the stitches.

Kitchen Kinks.

Toasted crackers spread with jelly make an acceptable sweet at simple luncheons.

When polishing the stove add a little sugar or sirup to the polish, and it will not burn off so quickly.

Cups have almost entirely superseded the soup plate for purées as well as for any lighter form of soup.

When cooking a shoulder or leg of pork many people have the hind left on, cleaning it carefully before cooking.

A nice relish with fish is raw cabbage cut very fine and covered with French dressing beaten almost to an emulsion.

A spoonful of flour added to the grease in which eggs are to be fried will prevent them from sticking or breaking.

The mica windows of coal stoves can easily be cleaned with a soft cloth dipped in vinegar and water. This should be done when the stove is cold.

A small pinch of carbonate of soda in the water in which cabbages are boiled preserves the color of the vegetable and lessens the unpleasant odor while cooking.

A JUNE CENTENARY

Anniversary of the Birth of Harriet Beecher Stowe.

INTERESTING CELEBRATIONS.

Thousands Unite In Honoring the Woman Who Wrote the Most Widely Read Novel of Modern Times and Who Helped Abolish Negro Slavery.

The one hundredth anniversary of the birth of the famous author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, will be celebrated on June 14 with elaborate ceremonies by admirers of her work. Mrs. Stowe's novel was one of the great influences in bringing about the abolishment of slavery, and the colored race regards her as a benefactor.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe was the daughter of the Rev. Lyman Beecher of Litchfield, Conn. She was a sister of Catherine Beecher, the well known educator and writer, and of Rev. Henry Ward Beecher. She was born at Litchfield, June 14, 1811. When Harriet was only four years of age her mother died. She then went to live with her grandmother at Guilford, Conn., but on the second marriage of her father returned home. She studied at the academy at Litchfield and under her gifted father's direction.

Catherine Beecher, Harriet's elder sister, was also a writer. In the seminary which Catherine opened at Hartford Harriet began her career as a teacher. When their father moved to Cincinnati to take charge of the theological seminary there both Catherine and Harriet accompanied him, the former establishing another school there. In 1836 Harriet married Professor Calvin E. Stowe, one of the instructors in the theological school. Soon after anti-slavery agitation began to stir the country, and Mrs. Stowe became interested in the question, her husband being an active abolitionist.

Owing to the failure of the theological school Professor Stowe accepted an appointment at Bowdoin college, and the family removed to Brunswick, Me. There "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was written in odd moments which Mrs. Stowe could spare from her family and household duties. Her story appeared first in the National Era, a Washington anti-slavery paper. She received $300 for the serial rights.

MRS. HARRIET BEECHER STOWE, AUTHOR OF "UNCLE TOM'S CABIN."

When she began to look for a publisher her husband, Professor Stowe, advised her not to be disappointed should it be unappreciated, for he pointed out that the subject was a very unpopular one. When Mrs. Stowe did, after many disappointments, find a firm willing to issue the book her contract called for only a 10 per cent royalty on the sales. Over 3,000,000 copies of the story have been sold. It has been translated forty times and in the form of a play reached a popularity equalled by no other American drama. Although "Uncle Tom's Cabin" proved so great a money maker for other people, comparatively little of the profit came to the author. She wrote many other books, but none of them achieved the success of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The last years of Mrs. Stowe's life were spent in Hartford, where she lived in retirement with her daughters. She died at Hartford July 1, 1896.

On June 14, the date of her birth, memorial exercises will be held at her birthplace, Litchfield, Conn. The Rev. Edward Beecher Stowe, son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, who has just published a life of his mother, will make a commemorative commencement address at Fisk university, Nashville, Tenn., an institution for colored youth.

Paint Cleanser.

The following mixture is excellent for cleaning white paint: Mix together equal quantities of soft soap, salt and whiting and apply it to the paint with a flannel wrung out of warm water. Rinse well and dry with a soft cloth.

Cleaning Silver.

Powdered whiting mixed to a paste with ammonia and water is excellent for cleaning tarnished silver. Rub the paste on with one leather and use another one to polish it with.

WHEN CARNEGIE SMILES.

Library Founder and His Wife Enjoy Watching Children's Frolics.

The Laird o' Skibo, otherwise Andrew Carnegie, library founder, formerly steel foundryman, who is supposed by some to be a truly canny Scotsman, has a distinctly human side notwithstanding all the millions he has and is trying to give away before he dies. He is not much given to play, except golf, of course, but he enjoys seeing others play.

Recently when a large gathering of children held May day exercises in

MR. AND MRS. ANDREW CARNEGIE WATCHING CHILDREN AT MAY DAY SPORTS IN CENTRAL PARK, NEW YORK.

Central park, New York, Mr. Carnegie spent part of an afternoon watching the little ones at their play and said he enjoyed it. That Mrs. Carnegie, who accompanied him, heartily enjoyed the experience is indicated by the smile on her face in the accompanying picture, reproduced from a snapshot photograph. One can scarcely tell just how the children's sports affected Mr. Carnegie, the expression on his face being noncommittal.

LIVES IN THE OPEN.

Ex-Senator Cockrell Engaged In Strenuous Experience.

Former Senator Francis M. Cockrell of Missouri at seventy-six years old is in the midst of an experience as strenuous as those of fifty years ago, when he fought in the war as a Confederate officer. A letter from Cockrell tells of the beginning of his work as a member of the commission to settle boundary disputes between New Mexico and Texas. Cockrell set out from Monahan, Tex., for a forty mile drive to the southeastern corner of

FRANCIS M. COCKRELL.

New Mexico. The party will go over every foot of the 500 mile boundary line. Mr. Cockrell writes: "In Abilene I got a chair, three pairs of blankets, a cloth cap, glasses to protect from sand, a single barrel shotgun, shooting five times by pulling the trigger once, a slicker large enough to wear over my overcoat, towels and a khaki pair of pants to wear over my other clothing."

General Cockrell was retired from the interstate commerce commission on Jan. 1. He was appointed on the boundary commission by President Taft to represent New Mexico. Sam Scott, an attorney of Waco, Tex., is the commissioner on behalf of Texas. The party will live in the open for three months.

Cockrell, who served thirty years in the senate, was one of the heroes of the desperate battle at Franklin, Tenn., in November, 1864. He commanded a brigade under General Hood and was severely wounded. At the close of the fight he was one of five general officers dead or wounded who lay upon the veranda of a house in Franklin.

Sane Fourth a Success.

What seemed to many three years ago an impossible thing is already practically an accomplished fact. The Sane Fourth idea has not only spread rapidly, but wherever adopted the improved conditions from every standpoint have abundantly demonstrated its wisdom. Other amusements than dangerous explosives have been found for young and old, and the only real sufferers are the fireworks makers, the largest of which has recently gone into bankruptcy. Night fireworks will continue to be used, but under the direction of police or fire departments in a way to render the display safe to spectators and to minimize the danger to those in charge. The indications are from all parts of the country that the day this year will be made the occasion for beautiful and instructive historical parades, and that the new custom now so successfully inaugurated will become permanent. One stirring historical float will do more to nurture real patriotism than a carload of cannon crackers. —H. H. Windsor in the July Poplar Mechanics Magazine.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & CO.

An Old Plan of Walsh.

One of the great plans of John R. Walsh has just been consummated, but by other men. The New York Central has formed a traffic agreement with a southern road which gives them a lake to the gulf route. The Inter-Ocean says:

"With the announcement made last night by officials of the Chicago, Indiana and Southern Railroad that on July 18 that road would run its first train from Chicago into Evansville, Ind., the first step of what may prove to be a great railroad war was taken. With the bringing to a successful consummation the plans of the former owner and builder of the road, John R. Walsh, the Chicago banker, now in the Federal prison at Leavenworth, Kas., the hands of two of the great railroad powers, the Vanderbilts and the Harriman interests, were shown already engaged in a struggle to get control of the gulf traffic which will result from the opening of the Panama Canal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Owens of this city and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wood, of Washington, returned from a two weeks' outing on the Muscatuck river. Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for their home this afternoon.

INDIANA MUST RAISE TAX LEVY

This Is the Opinion of State Officers.

CAN'T MAKE BOTH ENDS MEET

Because of the Increasing Demands of the State Benevolent, Penal and Correctional Institutions, More Money Is Needed and Both Political Parties May Acknowledge the Need of Increasing the Levy.

Indianapolis, June 17.—On the results of the sessions of county boards of review this year depends very largely the answer to the question whether or not the general assembly in 1913 will be compelled to increase the state tax levy for general purposes, say state officers on whom devolves the work of making both ends meet in the administration of the state's finances. If the boards increase the appraisal of real estate materially the state tax rate may remain as it is, according to these officers. But unless a considerable increase is made it will be necessary, they say, to provide for more state money through an increased tax rate. Real estate is appraised every fifth year, and this is the year for the land appraisal.

The chief source of concern in the administration of the state finances centers about the state benevolent, penal and correctional institutions. Because of the increasing demands of these institutions, it has been necessary to economize in virtually all other departments to meet expenses.

Some of the officers have said that unless the county boards of review make material increases, it will be advisable for the leaders of the two leading political parties to get together in the campaign next year, acknowledge the need for an increased tax rate, and eliminate the question as a campaign issue, each party acknowledging the necessity for the increase.

FATAL FARM ACCIDENT

Lad Killed While Engaged in Humane Undertaking.

Goshen, Ind., June 17.—Raymond Juday, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Juday of Elkhart, was fatally injured near Syracuse, while visiting at the home of his grandparents. A sheep fell into an abandoned well and a meat derrick was taken to the well to lift the animal out. Young Juday was operating the crank on the derrick. It slipped from his grasp and struck him on the head, knocking him down. He died of concussion of the brain.

SEYMOUR'S TURN NEXT.

Postoffice Site Controversy at Portland Is Settled.

Announcement is expected from Washington within the next few days of the selection of a post office site for Seymour.

The Treasury Department officials have been worrying over the site question in Seymour and Portland for some time and the following dispatch from Washington this morning indicates that Seymour may expect to receive important news soon.

"The Treasury Department today ended the long-standing controversy over the selection of a site for the new postoffice building at Portland. The department chose the Adair site, owned by a brother of Representative Adair. Two inspectors sent to investigate reported in favor of the Hawkins site, owned by the relatives of the late Nathan Hawkins. R. O. Bailey, assistant secretary of the treasury, went to Portland incognito, and, after inspecting both of the sites without his identity becoming known, decided that the Adair site was much to be preferred. The owner of the site will receive $10,000 for it.

Anonymous Letter Writing.

For some time Seymour, in addition to her dog poisoner, has harbored some other undesirable citizens in the form of the "Anonymous Letter Writer." It appears that some of these petty character assassins have been working overtime of late. If the writers of scurrilous anonymous letters could realize how little, contemptible and ineffectual their efforts really are, they would feel poorly paid for their labored literary efforts. The penalties for using the mails for such purposes are amply severe as some are likely soon to find.

The city street commissioner has been severely criticized by a number of women recently for cutting flowers along the edges of the alleys while the latter were being cleaned. They contended that here are plenty of weeds to keep the men busy and the flowers are cared for in some of the alleys and which tend to beautify the city and should not be disturbed.

Dr. Gillespie has been appointed eye and ear surgeon for the B. & O. road.

A Lady Who Lives in Goldsboro Joins in the Chorus of Praise for Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Goldsboro, N. C.—"A physician treated me for many distressing symptoms," writes Mrs. Etta A. Smith, "but gave me no relief.

"I suffered with neuralgia around the heart and was troubled at times with my head. I had pain in my left side, bowels, left thigh, shoulders and arms.

"After taking Cardui, I am now well and can recommend it to other suffering women."

Just such doubtful symptoms, as those from which Mrs. Smith suffered, are the ones for which it will pay you to take Cardui, the woman's tonic.

It is at such times, when there is nothing to show, for certain, the real cause of the trouble, that you need a tonic, to give the body strength to throw off the illness that evidently threatens.

Take Cardui, when you are ill, with the ailments of your sex. Take Cardui as a tonic, to prevent illness, when you feel it coming.

Your druggist keeps it.

SECTION MEN

Did Not Like Cut in Wages and Lengthening of Working Days.

Recently there has been trouble among the B. & O. S-W. section men on account of the company ordering a lengthening of the working day and at the same time a reduction in wages.

The order caused dissatisfaction among the section employees here and last week four of the gang that works east from here under Charles Richardson went on a strike, or at least they quit work. After remaining idle for two days they returned to work, accepting the new scale of wages and change in working hours.

By the company's order the working day was lengthened one hour and a cut of nine cents a day made in wages. The latter have been $1.59 for the past year and are cut to $1.50. About ten men are employed in the two gangs working out of Seymour. Further west on the road there has been some trouble on different sections since the order went into effect. At Shoals all of the men but the foreman struck. The News says: "Tuesday morning ten foreigners were unloaded at Shoals to work on the track, but after staying one day and learning that a strike was on, refused to work and left on Wednesday morning."

An infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Deputy is quite sick.

Man a Working Machine.

Man of today is as near a machine as he probably ever can become, and still exist. To keep him in perfect "running order" he has to be treated as such. Now, if your watch or auto had slipped a cog, or was "clogged up" with foreign matter threatening its very existence unless removed, would you apply acid or dope to rid it of foreign matter or to adjust its parts?

—As With Auto and Watch—so with the human body, it gets out of running order through the process of life and needs repairing. No defective machine can turn out good work. Every day that an "unclean" watch or auto, or any other machine is compelled to run, wears seriously its vital parts and saps its vitality. The longer you try to work while the body machinery is out of gear, the greater will be the damage it suffers. Health depends upon the human machine being kept in good mechanical order. Adjustment of the human body is the particular and special work of —The Spaulhurst Osteopaths— That they are expert body machinists, know what to do, and how to correctly fix what is mechanically wrong with the body structure is evidenced by kindly expressions of those who have given their treatment a fair trial. They give a little more satisfaction than is expected and make good every promise. They do not claim to perform miracles. Aid nature to health—that's all. Adjust the human machinery and nature makes the cure.

You are invited to call, consult and learn what ails you without charge. Do it today. Yes, you! It may not be too late. First National Bank Building, Seymour, Phone 557.

King George's Coronation.

JUNE 22, 1911.

How King George Will Be Crowned

Details of the Coronation of England's New Sovereign and His Queen, June 22, in Westminster Abbey. Form and Order of the Service and the Ceremonies, Compiled From Official Sources---Solemn Rites Attending the Function---Archbishop of Canterbury Personally Crowns His Majesty and Queen Mary.

servant George our king, and as thou dost this day set a crown of pure gold upon his head [here the king must be put in mind to bow his head], so enrich his royal heart with thine abundant grace and crown him with all princely virtues, through the King eternal Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Then, the king sitting down in King Edward's chair, the archbishop, assisted with other bishops, shall come from the altar, the dean of Westminster shall bring the crown, and the archbishop, taking it of him, shall reverently put it upon the king's head, at the sight whereof the people, with loud and repeated shouts, shall cry, "God save the king!" the peers and the kings of arms shall put on their coronets, and the trumpets shall sound, and by a signal given the great guns at the Tower shall be shot off.

The acclamation ceasing, the archbishop shall go on and say:

"God crown you with a crown of glory and righteousness, that by the ministry of this our benediction, having a right faith and manifold fruit of good works, you may obtain the crown of an everlasting kingdom by the gift of him whose kingdom endureth forever. Amen."

Then shall the choir sing:

"Be strong and play the man; keep the commandments of the Lord thy God and walk in his ways."

The dean of Westminster takes the Holy Bible from the altar and gives it to the archbishop, who presents it to the king, first saying these words: "Our gracious king, we present you with this book, the most valuable thing that this world affords. Here is wisdom; this is the royal law; these are the lively oracles of God." The Bible then is replaced upon the altar.

The Enthronization.

Now comes the enthronization, second only in interest to the actual crowning. The king is lifted into his throne by bishops and other peers, all the great nobles standing about the steps of the throne. The archbishop admonishes his majesty to stand firm and "establish your throne in righteousness, that it may stand fast forevermore, like as the sun before him and as the faithful witness in heaven."

Beginning with the archbishop, all the princes and peers kneel before the throne and vow allegiance to the sovereign, after which the archbishop kisses the left cheek of his majesty.

The Prince of Wales also takes the vow of homage, and all the princes of the royal blood touch the crown on his majesty's head and kiss the king's left cheek. When the homage is ended the drums shall beat and the trumpets sound and all the people shout, crying out: "God save King George! Long live King George! May the king live forever!"

Queen Mary's Turn.

Thus end the coronation and enthronization of the king. The ceremony for the queen is not so elaborate. Queen Mary is anointed by the archbishop, four peeresses meanwhile holding over her a rich pall of cloth of gold. The ring is put upon her finger and the crown upon her head, after which all the peeresses present put on their coronets. The presentation of the scepter and the ivory rod with the dove follows, and the queen takes her seat upon her throne, bowing reverently as she passes the throne of her husband.

After communion the king descends from his throne and, wearing the crown and carrying the scepter and rod, goes into St. Edward's chapel, followed by a great procession of bishops, peers trumpets sound. The bishops place the Bible, paten and chalice upon the altar. The lords who carry the regalia approach the altar, each handing over what he carries to the archbishop, who delivers them to the dean of Westminster, who places them upon the altar. Two bishops, kneeling, sing the Litany, the choir singing the responses. Then comes the communion service, with the singing of the Creed, king, queen and people standing. One of the bishops follows with a sermon, which is short, as it should be, considering the conglomerate length of the ceremonies.

All this time the king has been uncovered, but when the sermon begins he puts on his cap of crimson velvet turned up with ermine. The sermon ended, the archbishop goes to the king and administers the coronation oath. These are the questions asked and answered:

Archbishop--Will you solemnly promise and swear to govern the people of this United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the dominions thereto belonging according to the statutes in parliament agreed on and the respective laws and customs of the same?

King--I solemnly promise so to do.

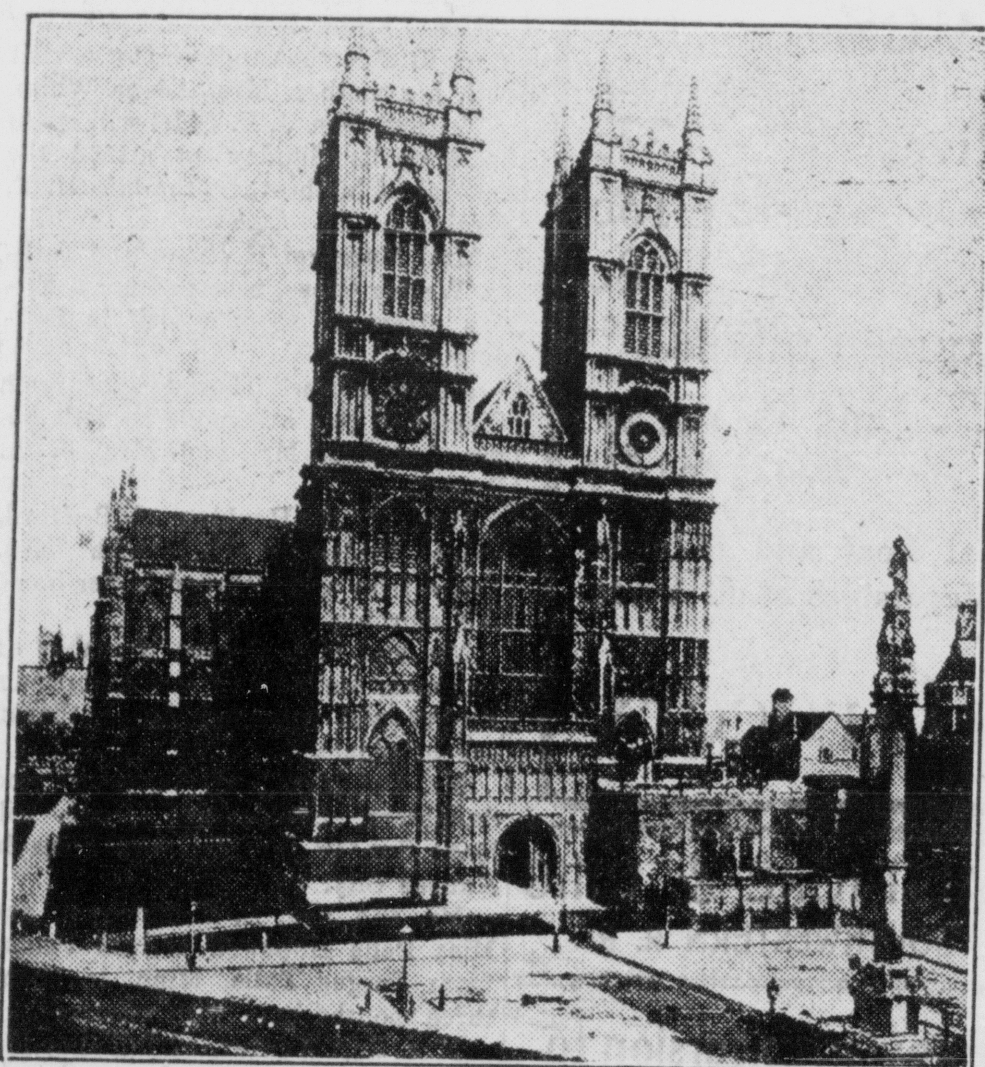

Archbishop--Will you to your power cause law and justice in mercy to be executed in all your judgments?

King--I will.

Archbishop--Will you to the utmost of your power maintain the laws of God, the true profession of the gospel, and the Protestant reformed religion established by law? And will you maintain and preserve inviolably the settlement of the Church of England and the doctrine, worship, discipline and government thereof as by law established in England? And will you preserve unto the bishops and clergy of England and to the churches there committed to their charge all such rights and privileges as by law do or shall appertain to them or any of them?

King--All this I promise to do.

Kneeling upon the steps of the altar, with his hand upon the Bible open at minster and other bishops, all of whom, it should be remembered, are peers of the realm.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY, THE FAMOUS CHURCH WHERE KING GEORGE AND QUEEN MARY WILL BE CROWNED AND ENTHRONED.

On coronation day the procession of bishops, headed by the archbishop of Canterbury, will form immediately outside the west door of the church and wait till notice is given of the approach of the king and queen, when they shall begin to move into the church. Their majesties are to be greeted by the singing of an anthem by the choir of Westminster. Compiled and curtailed from the official book mentioned, the procedure of crowning and anointing King George, with many incidental details necessarily omitted, is as follows:

Presenting the King.

The king and queen pass into the theater of the church, walk past their thrones and kneel at the south side of the altar, where they make brief private prayers. Then they sit down in chairs provided for them. The archbishop, the lord chancellor, the lord high constable and the earl marshal go in turn to each side of the church "and at every of the four sides shall in a loud voice speak to the people, and the king in the meanwhile, standing up by his chair, shall turn and shew himself unto the people at every of the four sides of the theater" as the archbishop says:

"Sirs, I present unto you King George, the undoubted king of this realm. Wherefore all you who are come this day to do your homage and service, are you willing to do the same?"

"God save King George!" loud and repeatedly cry the people. Then the gospel, the king says: "The things which I have here before promised I will perform and keep. So help me God." Then he kisses the book and signs the oath. He returns to his chair, both he and the queen kneel, and the archbishop prays, after which the great lord chamberlain removes the king's crimson robe and cap of state. King George goes to the altar, where he sits in the chair that was occupied by King Edward on a corresponding occasion. Over him four knights of the Garter hold a rich canopy of cloth of gold. The archbishop anoints the king with holy oil, on the crown of the head, on the breast and on the palms of both hands. The king kneels, and the archbishop blesses him.

The presenting of the spurs and sword follows the anointing. The dean of Westminster clothes the king with the imperial robe, the lord great chamberlain fastening the clasps. The king's ring is put upon the fourth finger of his right hand by the archbishop, who then delivers the scepter with the cross into his majesty's right hand, saying, "Receive the royal scepter, the ensign of kingly power and justice." The scepter with the dove, "the rod of equity and mercy," is placed by the archbishop in the king's left hand.

Crowning of King George.

Now comes the climax moment of the ceremonies. Standing before the altar, the archbishop takes the crown in his hands and, laying it back upon the altar, says, this being quoted from the official book mentioned:

"O God, the crown of the faithful, bless, we beseech thee, and sanctify this thy

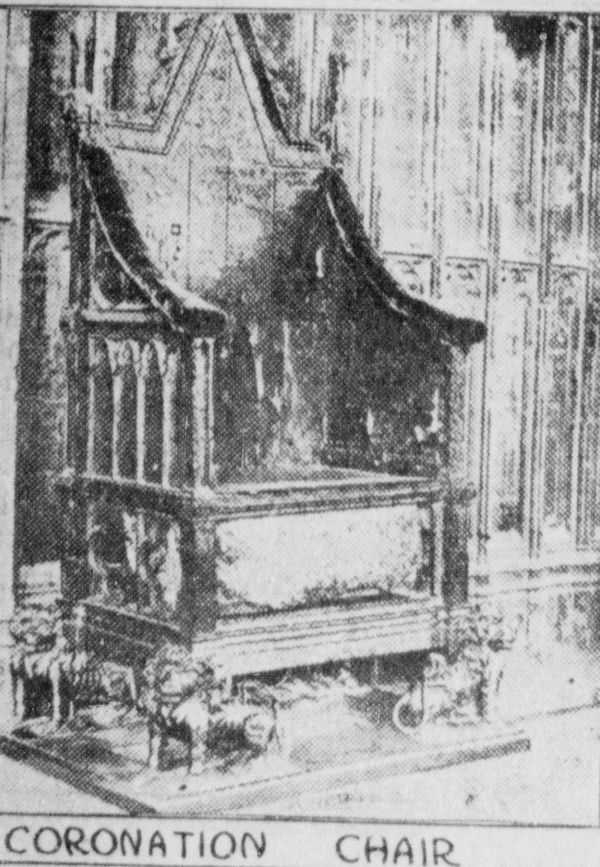

CORONATION CHAIR, IN WHICH BRITISH MONARCHS HAVE BEEN CROWNED FOR GENERATIONS.

and princes. The queen follows, and they proceed in state into the chapel, where his majesty is relieved of the royal robe of state and reclothed in his robe of purple velvet. KING'S SCEPTRE SET WITH CULLINAN DIAMOND

Coronation a Scene of More Than Medieval Splendor

THOSE in charge of arrangements for the coronation of King George V. of England and Queen Mary, his wife, have made the event one of more than medieval splendor. The ceremonies in the famous Westminster abbey, where lie buried many of the greatest of England's poets, soldiers and statesmen, are presided over by the archbishop of Canterbury, chief prelate of the Church of England, assisted by many archbishops and bishops. Persons of royal rank from various nations are among the official guests. All foreign governments are represented officially. The British colonies figure prominently with civil and military representatives. Thousands of wealthy persons from the United States, who, it has been estimated, will spend $25,000,000 in London during the fortnight of the coronation festivities, are on hand, some of them having achieved the coveted privilege of seats in Westminster abbey for the coronation ceremonies.

Good Features in Long Coats.

Furnished by Pictorial Review
The Pictorial Review Building
222-224-226 West 39th Street

Long coats are not to be laid aside this spring or summer. As long as thin, gauzy materials are used for dresses such coats will be absolutely necessary. Some interesting new models are shown in straight lines and simple effect, though having odd features of cut. The very large revers, big collars and unusual sleeves are among these newer shapes. The side closing is popular and is made with one or more fastenings for which beautiful frogs and ornaments made of silk braids or handsome buttons are used.

Black satin is the most fashionable material for a dress coat. It is lined with a bright, but soft color and the lapels and collar may be embroidered, braided or beaded. Tussah, rajah, and pongee make satisfactory silk coats.

Attractive motor coats are being made of ratiné, bouclé, homespun and the double-faced novelty cloths. Mohair, cheviot, diagonals and blue serge are reliable fabrics for travel, outing and general service. Hungarian cross-stitch embroidery is lavishly used on some handsome coats of black satin, or of broadcloth. Big, draped revers are sometimes well covered with a bold design worked in soft, rich colors, this being the only embroidery on the coat. Others may have a broad band of such work extending down the shoulders and sleeve, disappearing under the cuffs. Satin cord and soutache braid are used on rough silk coats, and on the silk collars and cuffs of those made of worsted or serge which are intended for practical service.

Invisibly-striped blue cravenette was chosen for PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3646. The collar and cuffs were faced with blue waterproof silk and closely covered with soutache. This is an exceptionally good development for a coat of this type and will be very satisfactory for wear in unsettled weather. The five-gored skirt fits snugly about the hips and a belt covers the joining of the skirt and body. The latter is plain save for a tuck at each side extending over the sleeve seam. Patterns are in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure. The medium size requires 4 1/2 yards of 44-inch material. Braiding design, No. 11235, price 20 cents.

Tan worsted with invisible stripes was employed for PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3838. Black satin made an attractive facing for the large collar and the bodices were of satin cord. It is a slightly fitted model and deep cuffs finish the two-seamed sleeves. A rounded collar could be made, if preferred, instead of the square sailor style. Patterns are in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. The medium size requires 6 1/2 yards of 44-inch material with 1 yard of contrasting material 22 or more inches wide for collar facing. The big, soft lapels of the coat, PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3889, will charm the woman who is alert for new and beautiful ideas. These lapels were formed by rolling the broad fronts backward. Dull black satin lining made an effective contrast with the golden-brown chiffon broadcloth of which the coat was made. A small braid ornament and tassel finished each point of the lapels, and brown cord outlined all the edges. This coat is especially desirable for evening and formal afternoon wear. Patterns are in sizes 32, 36 and 40 inches bust measure, size 36 requiring 4 yards of 54-inch broadcloth, or 5 yards of 44-inch satin and the same amount of lining. Patterns for the above models are 15 cents and include cutting and construction guides.

Largest Battleship In the Navy

FACTS ABOUT THE WYOMING.

Length over all, 545 feet.
Breadth at water line, 93 feet.
Displacement, 26,000 tons.
Estimated speed, 20 1/2 knots an hour.

Coal capacity, 2,500 tons. The Wyoming also has oil burners for use in case of emergency.

Keel laid Feb. 9, 1910.

Armament, twelve twelve-inch guns, twenty-one five-inch guns, four three-pounder saluting guns, two one-pounder semi-automatic guns, two three-inch field pieces, two thirty-caliber machine guns and two submerged torpedo tubes.

Complement, 54 officers and 1,030 men.

THE Dreadnought Wyoming, which was recently launched at the Cramps' shipyards, Philadelphia, is one of a group of six battleships under course of construction for the American navy, which when completed will form a stronger fighting squadron than the entire navy at the close of the Spanish war.

This bulldog of the navy was christened by Miss Dorothy Knight, daughter of former Supreme Court Justice Florida and the Arkansas. The Wyoming and the Arkansas are sister ships, and with their 26,000 tons displacement they surpass all predecessors.

The Wyoming will carry twelve twelve-inch guns and twenty-one five-inch rapid fire guns. Her secondary battery will consist of four three-pounder saluting guns, two one-pounder semi-automatic guns, two three-inch fieldpieces, two thirty-caliber machine guns and two submerged torpedo tubes.

NUMBER OF AMERICANS RESIDENT IN LONDON.

Seven Thousand Is Consul General's Figure, but It Is Only a Guess.

The American consul general, J. L. Griffith, asked by the state department for a report on the number of Americans resident in London, has given an estimate of about 7,000, but candidly says this is simply a guess. Several attempts have been made to determine the number of Americans living permanently here, but never with any great success. Only 375 Americans are registered at the consulate general. American directories have also been published, but they contain even fewer names and those only of the well known Americans.

Mr. Griffith's estimate is considered quite conservative. Americans are found in every walk of life in London. They are, however, widely scattered. In the first place there are a great many Americans in business in London, but only a small proportion of these are members of the American society or kindred organizations, and the others, not generally known to their fellow countrymen, are swallowed up in the great vortex of London's population of 7,000,000.

Another element adding greatly to the American population of London is the large number of young men employed as managers or experts in British business houses and factories. This is particularly true of electric concerns. The headquarters staff of the United Railways, which controls a great underground system, miles of tubes and connecting street railways, is composed, for example, largely of Americans, while the Central London railway, the original tube, now being extended in several directions, is being developed under the guidance of an American. Then the estimate must include the Americans of means, totaling many hundreds, who are making their homes here, and last, but not least, the American women who have married Englishmen.

In addition to London almost every city of importance in the country has an American colony, and outside the cities many a country house has an American for owner or tenant.

WAR ON THE HOUSEFLY.

Started in Kansas, and Nearly Every State Has Taken It Up.

Kansas started war on the common housefly, and the battle has been taken up by nearly every state in the Union. Old Doc Crumrine, as he is known in the west, started the hostilities. Crumrine was made secretary of the Kansas state board of health several years ago and at once started to send out bulletins. He muckraked the housefly and did it so well that the whole commonwealth fell upon this little pest with a viciousness that knew no quarter.

"Crumrine realized that the common housefly is a distributor of innumerable filth and loathsome disease germs in its movements from garbage piles, cesspools and stables to sick-rooms," writes F. D. Coburn in the June number of the American Magazine, "and exposed food supplies and proceeded to inaugurate his famous 'swat the fly' campaign in which every body has joined until in Kansas the fly, like the dispenser of strong drink, is an outlaw and a fugitive."

"What is here related of this quiet, soft spoken man is indicative of the wholesome service a capable, conscientious official can render if he has his cause at heart. Such is this unpretentious, modest, tireless, intelligent Secretary Crumrine, who in his lines has pushed his state forward a hundred years in half a decade."

BETS IT WILL RAIN.

Kansas Farmer Has Unique Hobby. Loses Heavily.

It is a fad with James Fike, farmer, of Colby, Kan., to bet on the weather. He more than bets. He plunges, and fortunate it is for him that he has a big bank account. Last August he staked $30,000 on a chance that it would rain within three months. If it had rained as he bet he would have made $250,000 and got his $30,000 back too. But it did not rain. Fike has been at it now for five years and has never won. He says, however:

"I'll make a big killing one of these years just as sure as shooting, and when I do I'll put on patent leather shoes and go to the seashore."

Fike has staked $175,000 in five years on chances that there would be enough rain and seasonable weather to give him a bumper crop of wheat. Each year of the five something went wrong. He has 17,000 acres in wheat this year.

HEADLESS BUTTERFLIES.

Curious Experiments Made by Some European Scientists.

Two European scientists have been making some curious experiments on caterpillars, the value and meaning of which have not yet been explained.

They had the curiosity to find out whether a caterpillar can turn into a butterfly if you deprive him of his head, also what will the butterfly be like?

By tying ligatures behind the heads the caterpillars were decapitated. This didn't seem to bother them much, except that they didn't crawl as fast as before.

The greatest difficulty in the experiments was in getting the butterflies out of the chrysalises. Most of them died, and it was necessary to help the others out. The butterflies thus obtained did not differ from the normal type, except for having no heads.

SATURDAY NIGHT SERMONS

BY
REV. SAMUEL W. PURVIS, D.D.

THE MOTHERHOOD OF GOD.

Text, "As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you."—Isa. lxxvi. 13.

"But what's the use, pastor?" a woman telling of troubles even her husband did not understand said to me. "It's just the same, even God is a man!" But she was mistaken. We only call God "him" for lack of a better term. There is no sex with God nor with angels nor with us in the world to come. However, I can understand how craving of human heart yearns for motherhood in religion. I can readily comprehend the grip which a great church has on the masses by its veneration of "the Virgin Mother." She's the embodiment of divine grace and compassion. To the understanding heart the Word of God is a warm letter of affection from a mother to her child. Does it point to God's sheltering love? Then it shows the hen and her flock of little ones. There's a sound of alarm to the scattered brood. Danger's near. There is a quick call, a fluttering of tiny wings, a patterning of feet to a trusted refuge. There's a picture for the sinner flying for refuge, a symbol of open gates of heaven for human soul when terrors of night of eternity are coming on.

Why as a Mother?

Oh, because a mother's love is so different! I've seen nurses at children's hospitals cuddle up their little charges. Beautiful, but not quite mother love. They weren't their own. When a regiment was leaving Buffalo for the Spanish-American war I saw at the armory a woman step out and kiss a stalwart young fellow. As they marched off the little woman, swooned away. "That was Bill's mother." Bill died in the fever camp at Chickamauga. Every time I left for college my widowed mother stood at the doorstep and waved goodby till I was out of sight. Sort of provoked me. No use making such a fuss. "Don't be impatient with me, my boy. You're all I have in the world to live for." 'Twas a mother I saw sitting by the prisoner at the lawyer's table all day long. It was she who sat with dry eyes and agonized face when the jury brought in its verdict. Her lips the last to kiss him through grated bars before his execution. Poor mother! She brought him into the world, nursed him at her breast, mothered him through every spell of fevered sickness. She knew him better than any one else. No wonder she would believe in him against every lawyer, judge and jury in the world. That's like God. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth we are but dust." "The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting." Oh, the motherhood of God!

Seeking and Forgiving.

The crowd gathers on the street corner. Big policeman has little sobbing child in his arms. "Is she hurt?" "Was she run over?" "Naw, nobody hurt. She's lost. Her mother 'll be along in a minute." "Here's a penny, baby." No penny wanted. "I want my mummy!" Suddenly a woman hurries into the crowd. "That's my baby!" Every one's heart thumps. The big policeman pushes her off coolly. "How do I know that?" "How? I guess actions will tell!" Baby arms are outflung. "Oh, mamma," the curly head cried, "I fought I had lost you." "Can you tell now?" "I guess you'll do," beams the officer. The crowd cheered and laughed and cried a little—the fathers and mothers in it. Hum! What did that woman say? "Actions will tell." Say, brother, can the world tell whether you belong to God or not? Ever read the parable of the lost sheep and the lost sheep? That's God seeking men. And God's forgiveness is like a mother's. Boy goes wrong, disgraces family. Father says: "Let him go. He's made his bed; let him lie in it." He's lost his job; his friends cut him on the street; his father will not let his name be mentioned in the house. Who is it gives him food and money secretly? Who is it holds no grudge and forgives as freely last time as first? Ever read the Bible, my wayward friend? It'll grip your heart in the tenderest place. "Him that cometh unto me I will in nowise cast out." "Though your sins be as scarlet"—that sounds like a mother saying, "No matter what you do or where you are, remember your old mother is your friend."

Forgetting Mother and God.

I have sat in parlors when my heart ached. "Mother's busy." I could hear the footfall of that poor drudging mother. Never mind. Some day pilgrim shoes will be loosed from those tired feet. The shadows will gather in that home. It's mighty doubtful if the angels will count the number of expensive floral designs when the crowd has left the cemetery. Is your mother dead? Now in heaven? Motherless forever? Remember how she pinched and scraped for you? "No, I still have her." Then go home and put your arm around her. Give her a real, living, warm kiss. Tell her that you love her, that she's the greatest mother God ever made. Insist on her having a nice bit of pin money every week. It's only part of what you owe. Some day you'll give your good right arm to have the chance. And her God? Well, you can afford to tie up to your mother's God. You'll want to be with both some day.

The Scrap Book

Rather Liked the Affront.

Edward B. Clark, the Washington correspondent, was the agent for a Chicago paper at Pine Ridge at the time of the Indian uprising there. After the difficulty had been composed Clark got a telegram from his paper asking him to get an interview with Young Man Afraid of His Horses, a chief who had taken part.

Clark took an interpreter and went to the chief's tepee. The chief, still in his war paint, received him in the tepee and asked Clark to eat. Clark ate. Then, wanting to do the right thing and not knowing whether it was proper to tip a big Indian chief, Clark dropped three silver dollars into the hand of the chief's wife, and for fear the paint streaked but dignified warrior might consider this an affront he had his interpreter say to the chief, "In my country a compliment to a man's wife is thought a double compliment." The interpreter repeated this sentiment to Young Man Afraid of His Horses. That dignitary grunted, rose, left the tepee and came back with four more wives.—Saturday Evening Post.

Life's Mirror.

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Give love and love to your heart will flow,
A strength in your utmost need.
Have faith and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your word and deed.

For life is the mirror of king and slave.
'Tis just what you are and do.
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

A Trifling Incident.

An Irishman went into a barber shop, and the unsteady gait with which he approached the chair showed that he had been imbibing of the produce of the still. He wanted his hair cut, and while the barber was getting him ready went off into a sleep. His head kept bobbing from one side to the other, and at length the barber in making a snip cut off the lower part of his ear. The barber gasped, then jumped about and howled, and a crowd of neighbors rushed in. Finally the demonstration became so great that it began to attract the attention of the man in the chair, and he opened one eye and said, "Wh-wh-ah's the matter wid yez?" "Good Lord!" said the barber. "I've cut off the whole lower part of your ear."

"Have ye? Ah, thin, go on wid yer business. It was too long anyhow!"

An Oversight.

"I trust you slept comfortably and had everything you needed," said Sandy Macpherson's hostess one cold morning last winter.

"Ay, weel enough," replied her guest, a venerable Scot, "but I dinna see the guld of yon bottle in the bed."

"Why, wasn't the water hot?" the hostess asked in surprise.

"Verra hot," responded Macpherson, "but ye forgot to put anything in it."

Expecting Too Much.

A rather finicky old chap who was traveling off the beaten paths struck a somewhat shabby hotel, which was principally used by workmen from a nearby construction camp. He paid a dollar in advance for room and breakfast, the clerk remarking caustically that "a suit case isn't a guarantee that the bill will be paid, especially when a guy has a room on the second floor." And just before midnight the indignant Mr. Smith piled down into the hotel office, almost dressed.

"What's the matter?" asked the sleepy clerk, shifting his pipe to the other corner. "Anything wrong?"

"Wrong!" gasped Mr. Smith, trembling. "Wrong! Confound your old dump, anyhow! I saw a pair of rats as big as hedgehogs fighting in the middle of my room."

"Huh," said the clerk, closing his eyes and preparing to return to sleep. "What do you want for a dollar—a bulldog?"—Herbert Corey in Cincinnati Times Star.

Out of His Element.

Rob Ingersoll was once ridiculing a sermon he had heard in Italy on the miracle of St. Anthony preaching to the fishes, which, the better to listen to the pious discourse, held their heads out of the water.

"I can credit the miracle," said Bishop Potter, "if you were at church."

"I certainly was there," replied the famous infidel.

"Then there was at least one fish out of water."

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT.

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILLS.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 134 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Peruna the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Peruna has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

VOTES TO SPARE IN THE SENATE

Reciprocity Bill Said to Be Assured of Passage.

WITHOUT ROOT AMENDMENT

According to Chairman Penrose of the Senate Finance Committee, the President's Pet Measure Has Fair Sailing and Will Get by Without the Amendment Which Threatened to Prove a Handicap in the House.

Washington, June 17.—Concerning a vote on the reciprocity bill, Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, has just given out the most cheering news that has been distributed about the White House this summer. He said that in about two weeks things should have so settled themselves in the senate that it would be possible to determine definitely the date of the vote on the measure. Mr. Penrose is confident that the bill will pass and without the Root amendment. He expects great progress to be made in the next two weeks in the way of opposition senators unloading their oratory against the measure, and says that things are now going on in the senate with such dispatch in this regard that the end should loom in sight at least in a fortnight.

Senator Penrose discussed reciprocity with the president. He is getting into the habit these days of dropping in at the White House about three times a week to report on the situation. This shows the eternal vigilance which the president is exercising with regard to reciprocity. The senator said that the margin in favor of the bill's passage was now large enough to make worry unnecessary. After he had returned from the conference with Mr. Taft at the White House, Senator Penrose said:

"A careful canvass of the senate shows that sixty members, or substantially two-thirds of the senators, are in favor of the reciprocity bill and more than that number of senators will be opposed to the Root amendment. The senate will hold daily sessions from now on and during the next two weeks great progress ought to be made toward a final vote on the bill. The bill will be passed at an early date without amendment. It would be well if it could be passed before the Canadian parliament reassembled the latter part of July."

The plans for a coalition between the Democrats and certain insurgent Republicans to defeat Canadian reciprocity and pass certain of the house tariff bills practically has been abandoned. Senator La Follette, however, undismayed by the discouraging reception his program has received, is going about the work of preparing his tariff measure which he will offer as an amendment at the proper time.

IN HIS OWN BEHALF

Cooke Seeks to Refute Warriner's Statements in Big Four Case.

Cincinnati, June 17.—Edgar S. Cooke, accused of embezzling $24,000 from the Big Four railway, took the stand in his own behalf to refute the accusations hurled at him by Charles L. Warriner, defaulting treasurer of the road, and Mrs. Jeannette Stewart-Ward.

Cooke's attorney led him through a mass of detail regarding his early life, his marriage, his work in a railroad office at Elkhart, Ind., before he came to Cincinnati in 1892.

Then came a minute exposition of the methods of accounting for station agents' remittances in the offices of the Big Four here and an explanation of Cooke's part in the work. Cooke described himself as "a clerk without authority," and said his salary was $90 a month. He told how Charles L. Warriner had possession of the incoming funds and directed their deposit in bank.

Sunflower Philosopher Starts On Unique Pilgrimage.

Atchison, Kan., June 17.—"Old Ed" Howe, the retired editor of the Atchison Globe, announces that he stands upon the threshold of his life's ambition. With a brass band of forty pieces he will tour the small towns of western states, driving Harmony and Culture in a double team along unaccustomed highways.

Mr. Howe says he has been trying for years to persuade a rich man to finance the band and carry music to towns which hanker for it but are denied. He failed in persuasion and will undertake the work himself. The concert will be free, and the Brass Band Evangelist will drop a few words of good counsel into ears which have been softened by the aural of

HIS LAST WORDS

Spoken on Gallows Protested His Innocence of Crime.

Harrisburg, Ill., June 17.—"Here goes an innocent man," were the words spoken by Alexander King, colored, condemned murderer of John Mitchell, as the black cap was adjusted on him by Sheriff Mooneyham. King spoke a few words, stoutly protesting his innocence and saying that he was prepared to die.

The execution of King was the first hanging in Saline county. King and Albert R. Green killed John Mitchell, King's father-in-law, for money and burned the house. Green turned state's evidence and was sent to the penitentiary. King was tried and convicted. He formerly lived in Gibson county, Indiana, and his body was sent to Lyle's station for burial.

Attempted Bribery Alleged.

Kansas City, June 17.—Walter K. Palmer, president of the W. K. Palmer Construction company, has filed with one of the commissioners of Kansas City, Kan., charges that three different men asked him for money to pay a bribe to a specified trio of Kansas City, Kan., commissioners for awarding him the contract to build the $350,000 municipal electric light plant in that city. Palmer's affidavit came after the commissioners had given the contract to another firm.

EASTERN EDITION

Of a Dog Journal Ridicules the Mad Stone.

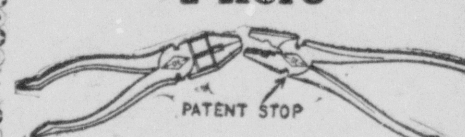

Notwithstanding the declaration of C. H. Jones, editor and publisher of the Dog Journal of Rochester, N. Y., a publication with illustrations issued monthly in the interest of the dog, ridiculing the idea of there being such a thing as a mad stone, the majority of people will continue to believe in such a stone. In this month's issue Jones says:

"We see by the Vincennes, Ind., Commercial that Dr. J. M. Scott, of Decker, was in the city searching for a 'mad stone,' a stone of porous formation which is said to have the power to draw out poisonous matter from a wound caused by the bite of a dog afflicted with hydrophobia. He claimed that a mad dog had been running through the town and had bitten several other dogs and he wanted to be prepared for anything that might happen.

"We venture to say that any man who has the permission to add M. D. to his name who would hunt for a mad stone with the intention of drawing anything into it, excepting from the imagination of the patient, has also a rabbit's foot hanging to his neck and carries a horse chestnut in his pocket to ward off rheumatism. Think of a 'real doctor' hunting for a 'mad stone.'"

"Is it not a wonderful thing that we are living in this progressive age and were not obliged to live in the days of witchcraft?"

Diamond Edge Pliers

While we have several styles in pliers, selling for a little money, the cheapest pliers in the long run are those illustrated here.

See the Diamond Edge side cutting, pipe wrench plier, with screw driver, reamer and wire cutter. This is what we consider the acme of all pliers as to quality and utility.

The other is a standard pattern, having the patent stop that protects the jaws.
